Board of Vocational Nursing and Psychiatric Technicians Announces New Fee Schedule

The Board of Vocational Nursing and Psychiatric Technicians (BVNPT, Board) is a self-supporting, special fund agency that obtains its revenues from licensing, certification, examination, permit, renewal, delinquency, and application fees. Under existing law, the Board is specifically authorized to collect fees to support its functions. The fees are intended to be sufficient to cover the cost of the Board's regulatory services. Business and Professions Code sections 2892 - 2892.7, 2895, 2895.5, 4518, 4518.1, 4544 - 4545.3, and 4548 establish the Board's fee collection authority and the statutory minimum and maximum fee schedule for applications for the initial license types, applications for renewal and other fees for Board applicants, licensees, and education providers.

In April of 2020, the Department of Consumer Affairs (DCA) completed an analysis of the Board's fund condition and fee structure. This analysis was to determine the sustainability of the fund and to ensure that the Board was collecting sufficient revenue to fully recover its cost of regulating individuals and businesses within its jurisdiction.

The data analysis indicates without exception, the actual cost to process each item required by statute exceeds the maximum fee authorized to be charged in statute.

The data analysis found the current level of fees was not adequate to keep the Board's fund solvent and the fees needed to be adjusted to reflect the actual cost to the Board to process and service each license type. A full discussion of the cost analysis may be found at:

The decision to raise fees was not made lightly and in recent years the BVNPT has taken multiple measures to reduce costs. Unfortunately, the BVNPT cannot further reduce expenditures that support the licensing, education, and enforcement programs without negatively affecting the Board's ability to process applications in a timely manner and to quickly mediate or investigate consumer complaints.

The new fee schedule was implemented on September 21, 2022. The fee increase will ensure the BVNPT continues to be effective in regulating vocational nurses and psychiatric technicians of California.
